

The Daily Bee.

OMAHA.

Thursday Morning, Oct. 5.

Weather Report.

(The following observations are taken at the same moment of time at all the stations named.)

WAR DEPARTMENT, U. S. SIGNAL SERVICE, OMAHA, Oct. 5, 1882, (1:45 p.m.)

Table with columns: Station, Temperature, Wind, Clouds, etc. Rows include Denver, Cheyenne, Salt Lake, etc.

Send for printed price list and samples of all kinds of job work to the ALLEN PRINTING CO., job printers, and publishers "RURAL NEBRASKA," The American Cattle Journal, LIVE STOCK printing specialty, Nos. 218 and 220, S. 14th St., Omaha, Neb. sep20me-cod2w

LOCAL BRIVITIES.

The funeral of the late Henry Frin will take place at 2 p. m. Thursday. It will pay any one to get up at 4 a. m. now to see the big comet. It is a blazing beauty. Collectors who have been out with their report it a bad month for collections. The leading topic of conversation now is the forthcoming appearance of Fay Templeton. She opens her engagement at Boyd's opera house to-night. The remains of the late John Eighman, who died in St. Joseph's hospital, were buried yesterday from the under taking rooms of McCarthy & Burke. The Union Pacific and the Council Bluffs ball club will play a game on next Saturday afternoon in this city. It will be seen by reference to the mortality report published elsewhere that a case of death from abortion is reported from last month. The displays of agricultural products from points along the Union Pacific railway, which took the first prize at Minneapolis, captured the prize also this week at the St. Louis fair. The west-bound U. P. train to-day noon did not get away until 1 and 2 o'clock, the delay being occasioned by the C. B. & Q., which came in at the transfer four hours late. Our Bohemian friends are moving now to provide for a cemetery of their own. They will be an entertainment next Saturday at Bohemian hall for the benefit of the cemetery fund. Deputy Marshal Culp came up Tuesday morning with a prisoner, Charles Cozner, of Nebraska City, whom he arrested for selling liquor without paying a special tax, Cozner having been engaged in bottling and peddling beer. The defendant gave bonds to appear. Superintendent Taylor, of the Bradley street company, left for Salt Lake City today, to look after the interests of his business in Utah. He will be absent about ten days, during which time Assistant Superintendent F. B. Wood will be in charge of the office here. Mr. Wood is now in the right man in the right place. The third annual ball of the Irish-American Band will take place at Masonic Hall on the 19th. We predict that the same will be a success as upon this occasion the boys will appear in their new uniform which will be elegant. The dancing program has been ordered by Messrs. Davis Bros, direct from Boston, and the same are of the latest style. In the police court yesterday there were four cases of intoxication. One paid and three were committed. A complaint was filed against a Douglas street merchant, charging him with striking a neighbor's little daughter. It is a neighborhood that breaks out afresh every now and then. For two days back a number of ladies of several religious denominations have been engaged in sewing and making bed clothing for the hospital of St. Joseph. The work has been done in one of the wards of the new wing, and has been productive of great good. For this the sisters feel grateful. They desire to ask the same kind ladies and all others who may do so, to favor them on today again from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. This, it is thought, will work up all the material. Tuesday just before the gas was lighted, a man driving a spirited team along Saunders street ran foul of a hydrant, which at that point sets out some distance from the sidewalk. The hydrant caught between the wheel and the bed right at the X, threw the man out and broke the harness badly, but luckily the team did not run. The hydrant is located by a rule made for the street 100 feet wide, and Saunders street is only 60 feet wide and is thrown into a dangerous position. About ten miles from Omaha, in Millard precinct, there is a lady 91 years of age and still in the best of health. She is a native of Camber Burghire, Scotland. When seen by the reporter she had her great grandchild on her lap. She can read everything without spectacles, and do all kind of needle-work, dressmaking especially. She hears as well as ever, and she felt as healthy and sound as when she was eighteen years of age. Her nearest relative, Mr. John McDonald, whom she is with, is a prominent citizen of Millard precinct. They think as much of the old lady as of their own mother, and are very proud of her indeed. A game has recently taken place in the spring-riding of the Omaha fall works, by which Mr. J. H. Whitaker, who has resigned to accept a position in Oakland, California, is succeeded by his nephew, Mr. Wm. H. Whitaker. Mr. J. H. Whitaker came to Omaha from New Jersey, in June, 1881, and took the position of assistant superintendent under Mr. G. T. Walker, who subsequently left and was succeeded as superintendent by Mr. Whitaker, who erected the self-feeders, which have proved such a success. Mr. Whitaker served faithfully and well, and now resigns to take a position under his old superintendent at a salary of $2,500 per annum. He leaves Omaha with much regret, but as he nearly doubles his earnings his friends will congratulate him upon the deserved promotion and wish him all success in his new field.

Mr. W. O. Wheeler, the business manager of the Omaha Grand English Opera company, is in the city arranging for the appearance of that organization at Boyd's opera house next Tuesday evening in the latest operatic success, "King for a Day." The Abbott company is the finest musical organization in existence, and has in its fifty eminent vocalists in addition to a large chorus and orchestra. Among the artists are Liza Amorella, the charming contralto; Julia Amorella, the prima donna soprano; Marie Hilde, Clara Weber, William Clark, Albeno Soddard, Valantine Fabini, John Gilbert, Gustavus Hall, and others. "King for a Day" is a brilliant musical work, and will be finely costumed. The sale of seats will begin next Saturday morning, and the prices will be: Parquette and parquette circle, $1.75; dress circle, $1; and gallery 50 cents.

Send for printed price list and samples of all kinds of job work to the ALLEN PRINTING CO., job printers, and publishers "RURAL NEBRASKA," The American Cattle Journal, LIVE STOCK printing specialty, Nos. 218 and 220, S. 14th St., Omaha, Neb. sep20me-cod2w

There is a hole in the sidewalk just east of the Metropolitan hotel, which sadly needs repair. Somebody is going to break a leg there yet and the city will have to pay for it. A horse fell into the sewer excavation on Dodge and Twelfth street last night, there being no lights out to warn persons of the danger. Mr. J. H. Mitchell, of Florence, has sent to THE BEE office a quartette of the largest and most perfect apples we have seen this year. They were delicious.

General Sherman has ordered General Howard to revoke his order forbidding Sunday dress parades in the department of the Platte. General Sherman should at once be taken in hand by the salvation army.—Boomerang.

A lame man was run over by one of the street cars near the Slaven house, last evening, about 8 o'clock. His cries attracted the attention of the driver and passengers who had not up to that time seen him or felt the shock to the car. Drs. Ayres and Rose were called in to attend him and his wounds were pronounced not serious.

The case against James T. Hair, the patent hotel register man, came up in the police court yesterday afternoon, the defendant being charged with violation of the patent right laws of Nebraska. It was dismissed on the grounds that the law in question was unconstitutional, which fact the attorney for the prosecution admitted. The prosecuting witness, Mr. F. C. Fester, pays the costs in the case, including the defendant's attorney's fees, and the latter has given up the notes taken by him and taken back his state right. He says that the purchaser did not know a good thing when he had it, and that he is willing to take it back.

Bar Resolution. At a meeting of the Douglas county bar held Tuesday to take action respecting the late Chas. A. Fritley, the following resolutions were adopted, and were yesterday presented to the district court.

WHEREAS, Almighty God has in his wisdom removed from our midst the death of our friend and brother, Charles A. Fritley, Esq., therefore be it by the Douglas county bar.

Resolved, That while we bow in submission to the immutable decree of Him, whose ways are past understanding, yet we feel that in the death of him whose early and seemingly untimely decease we deplore, that the bar has sustained an irreparable loss.

Resolved, That, although our deceased brother had been among us but a comparatively short time, yet his many estimable qualities had endeared him to all who knew him, and those who knew him best loved him most; his habits of industrious pursuit after the deep things of our profession, his unflinching integrity and his many brilliant papers promised for him a successful future.

Resolved, That we hereby tender to the grief-stricken relatives of the deceased our heartfelt sympathy in this their great affliction.

Resolved, That we take pleasure in paying this tribute of regard and respect to the memory of our deceased brother, and ask that these resolutions be spread upon the court journal and city press by requested to publish the same.

R. W. BRENKENRIDGE, S. A. BALLEE, E. D. McLAUGHLIN, Committee.

Short eulogistic addresses were made by Messrs. Hitchcock, Breckenridge, Bowers, Landabury, Hawes and Redick, following which Judge Savage made some fitting remarks, and in respect to the memory of Mr. Fritley adjourned court for the day.

Supreme Court of Nebraska. S. T. Cochran, of Lancaster county, was admitted to practice.

Stewart vs. Dagg. Error from Lancaster county. Affirmed. Opinion by Maxwell.

A judge of the district court has authority at chambers in a proper case to grant license to a guardian to sell the real estate of his ward.

Hastings & Grand Island R. Co. vs. Ingalls. Motion to strike amended petition from files overruled and cause submitted.

H. & G. I. R. Co. vs. Armsberger. Motion to dismiss overruled. R. V. R. vs. Sayer. Submitted on motion to dismiss. B. & M. R. Co. vs. Arms. Continued.

inheriting the personal estate of a deceased person. Under our statutes of descent and distribution a husband does not inherit his wife's personal estate, and is therefore not the next of kin.

A husband as executor cannot maintain an action under the statute approved February 25, 1873, for the death of his wife, unless it appear that there are next of kin entitled to the amount to be recovered.

If the petition in such case fails to state facts showing the existence of next of kin, it will not state a cause of action.

Orange Blossoms.

Trinity Cathedral was the scene of a beautiful wedding which has been anticipated for some time in Omaha society, the occasion being the wedding of Miss Minnie Leonard Hall, a niece of Bishop Clarkson, of the diocese of Nebraska, to Mr. Theodore L. Ringwalt, well known in Omaha railroad circles as the efficient and popular clerk in the B. & M. headquarters. Long before the hour set for the solemnization of the ceremony Trinity chapel was filled with the friends of the contracting couple, gathered to witness their launch upon the sea of matrimony, and prepared to follow the bark with their warmest congratulations. Loving hands had been at work in decorating the church for the occasion. A handsome porte cochere extended from the north door of the chapel to the sidewalk, its walls composed of canvas, and the roof and interior decorated with flags. Above the altar was a beautiful floral arch, while the lectern and font were adorned with snail and exquisite flowers. Promptly at 1 o'clock the organ, which was presided over by Mr. George F. Mayer, struck up the familiar strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March and the bridal procession entered from the north door in the following order: The Misses Hall, Mrs. Hall, the bride's mother leaning upon the arm of Mr. Joseph Clarkson; the bride and her uncle, the Rev. Mr. Gasman. Miss Hall looked lovely in an exquisite dress of pure white and wore the conventional orange blossoms in her hair. As the procession approached the chancel it was met by the groom and his best man, Mr. J. R. Ringwalt. The beautiful service of the church was rendered by Bishop Clarkson, assisted by the Rev. Frank Millspaugh and Rev. James Williams, of St. Barnabas church, the responses being given clearly and distinctly. At the conclusion of the ceremony the happy pair left the chapel to the sound of the bridal chorus from Longfellow.

Mr. and Mrs. Ringwalt left last evening on an extensive tour through Colorado. They will spend some time in Denver before going east where they expect to visit in Detroit. They carry with them the hearty congratulations of a host of friends in Omaha and best wishes that their wedded life may be as happy as its beginning was auspicious.

WILCOX-MYERS. Frank Wilcox, head clerk at A. D. Morse & Co.'s boot and shoe store, and Miss Kate L. Myers, of Bellevue, were married at the bride's home, Tuesday, October 3, 1882, at half past 2 o'clock. Rev. Wright, of First Methodist, officiating. The happy couple were well remembered by their host of friends, judging from the numerous and handsome presents they received. Wm. Thompson acted as groomsmen, and Miss Emma Myers as bridesmaid. At 4 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wilcox left for Omaha, their future home. The Rev. Wright, in his happy words upon this important event in their lives, and wishes them all happiness and prosperity.

The Omaha Glee Club. The following list comprises the present membership of the club: First tenors—F. S. Smith, A. D. Morris, Edward Whitson, William E. Grattan, Arthur Van Kuram. Second tenors—Walter B. Wilkins, J. R. Manchester, Will Stevens, L. S. Reed, Jay Northrup. First basses—J. Wesley Wilkins, C. E. Burmaster, Allen Jackson, H. K. Kralle. Second basses—J. L. Smith, W. F. Nash, C. D. Dorman, R. W. Snow, O. N. Goff.

LIFE AND DEATH.

The City's Mortality for the Month of September.

The mortality report of the city physician, Dr. P. S. Leisinger, for the month of September, 1882, shows the following statistics:

Total number of deaths from all causes, 54. Of these were from diphtheria 1, fever 13, diarrheal diseases 11, dysentery 4, inanition 1, cancer 1, pulmonary diseases 3, heart diseases 1, convulsions 5, peritonitis 1, unknown 3, congestion of the lungs 1, drowned 1, railroad accident 1, paralysis of the heart 1, old age 1, paralysis 2, abortion 1, tumor of the liver 1, poison 2. Ages—Under 1 year, 17; between 1 and 2 years, 5; between 2 and 5 years, 4; between 5 and 25 years, 8; 70 and over, 6. By Wards—First ward 10, Second 19, Third 7, Fourth 3, Fifth 2, Sixth 7, hospitals 5. Sex—Males 31, females 23. Color—White 52, colored 2. Condition—Married 11, single 38, widowed 5. Interments—Prospect Hill 14 Holy Sepulcher, S. Canady's 1, County 16, German Catholic 5, Pleasant Hill 1, Laurel Hill 3, removed from the city 6. Annual death rate per 1,000, 1.850. Births, 48; rate per 1,000, 2.7. Residues not given.

For Sale. My business consisting of a stock of drugs, paints, oils, wallpaper, window glass and toilet articles, liquors and cigars, etc., is for sale. The premises, 414 miles west of Omaha. Fixtures and store for rent. The business has been carried on continuously since 1871, and is well established. $2,000 cash required. Correspondence solicited. O. E. DEWET, Pioneer Druggist.

Married. On the 4th inst. by the Rev. George L.

"WOMAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY."

Miss Phoebe Cozzen's Lecture at the Opera House Last Evening.

Notwithstanding the threatening weather last night, and the dash of rain which fell early in the evening, a throng began early to pour into Boyd's opera house, and by 8 o'clock filled every available seat, from the pit to the upper gallery, the last being finally opened owing to the large crowd below. The attraction was the address by Miss Phoebe Cozzen, the famous lady lawyer of St. Louis, and the renowned advocate and orator of the woman suffrage cause. Her subject was announced as, "Woman without a country."

The lecturer began by a eulogy of our pilgrim mothers and pointed out that in all the dinners and celebratory which the pilgrim fathers have only been mentioned, and one would think to listen to them that these worthy saviors of worthy sires sprang Minerva-like from the heads of their Jupiters. Then she related to the sisters in celebration of the landing of the pilgrims in Boston, in which Edward Everett Hale said: "How providential it is that the old south church has been saved to us as a monument to the memory of the pilgrim fathers. She maintained that it was through the patriotism of woman that the old South church was not sold, as the men of Boston offered to sell the old woman with her devotion stepped between it and the auctioneer and women of Boston put their names to a note for four hundred thousand dollars pledging themselves to redeem it within a certain time, and worked with hearty enthusiasm for this object. At the centennial thirty thousand dollars was raised by these Bostonians for the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came on the "Mayflower" and sailed from their comfortable homes in England and landed at Plymouth, and the first payment on this debt, and yet the gentlemen alluded to it as the hand of Providence, and said no word about the women. She also spoke of the hardships the pilgrim mothers endured. Those who came